

Masters at Augusta National 2010

Elite Sporting Tours takes the pain out of going to the world's best golf tournament, the Masters at Augusta National.

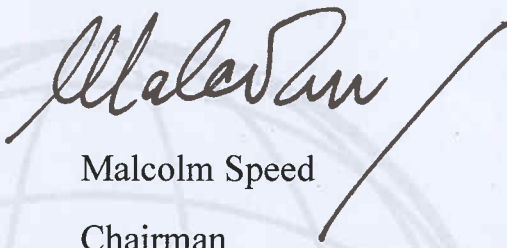

2010 was my third visit and the first with Elite.

We asked for a five bedroom house close to the course and they produced a brilliant, modern, spacious, clean house, 5 minutes drive from the front gates of the course. The backyard was huge and one of our number who is a retired golf pro could be convinced to give chipping lessons on the back lawn after a few beers. At one of the infamous Elite parties we met the owners of the house who suggested that they come around (to their home!) on the Sunday night and cook us a southern style barbecue while our group who had come from Melbourne, Sydney, Dubai and London sat around and drank a glass of red or two.

Having great access to tickets is a major plus for Elite - much easier than sourcing them privately or through contacts.

Steve and Terry provide a great personal touch - no fuss, efficient, personable and friendly.

Kind regards,
